CANNERY REFUSE HEALTH MENACE

Protests That City Dumps Are Used as Indiscriminate Garbage Ground.

Protests that refuse from the pineapple canneries, sent to the city dumps, is being allowed to pile up until it forms a menace to health have been made within the last few days and yesterday a reporter for the Bulletin, in company with an expert chemist of the city, visited the spot to ascertain conditions.

The city dump in spots is literally alive with flies and insect pests in various stages of activity, and the whole Twiell district is feeling the consequences.

It is stated that a treatment of lime on the dumps would prevent three-fourths of the present pest. Instead of the dumps lie untreated in the hot sun, and flies are bred by the millions.

The Hawaiian Fertilizer Company has been suffering from this plague of flies in its buildings and offices. Speaking of conditions, a chemist for the fertilizer company said yesterday:

"This refuse could without doubt be used as a potash fertilizer if properly burned, potash being one of the most expensive plant foods imported into this Territory that go to make up the commercial fertilizer. All of this plant food is imported from Germany, a German Trust controlling the output and price of same."

TEACHERS WHO PASSED EXAMS

Twenty-seven passed the primary grade examinations, two the grammar in full and fifteen the grammar grade in parts, in the examinations held at the Normal school last week following on the summer school session. The examining board completed its findings last night.

The grammar grade subjects are five in all and teachers are allowed four years in which to pass the lot.

Those who were successful are: Joseph Komomua, Eva S. Boardman, Margaret Kaimiloa, Lily Ackerman, Oliver Mitchell, Catherine Choy, Gladys A. Pearce, Constance Asagae, Ray Bell, Lot K. Kauwe, Mrs. J. P. Sleson, Mildred Evans, Shirley B. Foster, Daisy Sheldon, Margaret Evans, Bernice Hundley, Mary Radoso, Jennie Gaspar, Charlotte Lowden, Mrs. Askew, George K. Apela, Edward K. Kekuewa, Milla Dunn, Amelia Gay, Gabriel Ah Yo, Ernest G. Cockett, Bernice Smith.

The following passed the grammar grade subjects in full: Margaret McClymont and Abel Ah You.

Those who passed the grammar grade subjects in part are: Emma Kalpu, Lillioe Hapai, J. Vincent, John Pahl, Eugene Horner, Manuel de Corte, Charlotte Cowan, Mrs. Mesick, Rose Alau, Maud Woods, John A. Medeiros, Gladys Haina, Paul Tallett, Sau Chin Wong, Emily Ewaliko.

The examining board is composed of J. Davis, Royal school; Charles Baldwin, Kaahumanu school; Mrs. Frazier, Kaimiloa school; William McCloskey, supervising principal of East Hawaii.

PUREST MILK CITY HAS KNOWN

Honolulu's milk supply now is the purest ever known here, says D. P. R. Isenberg, as the result of the electrically purified milk sent out by the Honolulu Dairymen's Association, which is furnishing by far the majority of milk-using residents of the city with the lactical fluid.

Moreover, the milk is proving so valuable for young babies that it has been adopted by the Children's Hospital in cases where youngsters need only the best of care and attention.

Miss Dewar, superintendent of the Children's Hospital, has notified Mr. Isenberg that she has been investigating the milk and that it is giving splendid results for the feeding of young babies who need much nourishment. She told him the story of a baby who was wasting away under ordinary care, but when the electrically-purified milk was administered, began at once to pick up health and strength.

MOSQUITO CAMPAIGN MAY HAVE LITERATURE

Honolulu's mosquito campaign may yet produce a literature even as the fly campaign on the mainland is now producing it. Collier's Weekly, while deprecating the fact that fly-hunting has not reached the realm of literary inspiration, proceeds to start something with the following editorial:

Fly hunting is without its literature, yet it is almost the only form of hunting that keeps the hunter amused in his own home. It is always available; the game is plentiful, and it is one of the few sports in which it is a virtue to be a game hog. Since the amount of strength required is small, the game is open to young and old and to members of both sexes. Poise is the matter of most importance, and any one who is proficient enough with a swatter to strike down a fly on a swinging window cord or tip one off the shade of the gas-light without shattering the mantle need feel no hesitation about going in for billiards. For success in wing-shot swatting an extraordinary sharpness of the eye is essential, for wing-shots only stun the game, and unless the hunter's sight can follow it to the floor to strike a second time with wonderful quickness the score is lost. Flies raised in a fly hunter's rooms become as wary as wise old crows, and when a house has been hunted for a few days a considerable amount of nature study enters into the sport. At the same time the eye must be trained to detect shams or much time wasted creeping up to swat a small rip in the cloth of the window seat. Don't swat flies near sharp edges of tables or chairs where a blow will bend the wires. Scare your prey into the open, follow its flight and bring it to earth in some more advantageous hunting grounds. And always remember, an animal clever enough to walk upside down on a ceiling is not to be despised for hunting purposes just because it doesn't weigh as much as a duck.

CELTIC CHIEF CASE STILL BEING HEARD

The Celtic Chief case was again continued yesterday when more technical evidence was called. J. Sato, a Japanese contractor, told the number of men that he had supplied Captain Miller with for the job.

Captain Miller was placed on the stand and was questioned as to the tackle that was used in hauling the vessel off the rocks. He stated that it was almost impossible to tell what strength a steel hawser was and that sometimes a smaller one would take more strain than a large one.

The examination will be continued.

PINEAPPLE PACK WILL BE UP TO ESTIMATES

The pineapple park for the islands will rub just about as estimated earlier in the season by local pineapple men—between 750,000 and 800,000 cases. Of this amount, the two big local canneries, those of the Hawaiian Pineapple Company and the Hawaii Preserving Company, will be some 250,000 and 200,000 cases respectively.

The season is a little more than half over, but the rush part of it will be over in a week or two, after which the pines will come from the field more slowly.

Prospects for next season are unusually bright.

DAIRY GIRL CARRIES GERMS

CHICAGO, July 31.—Two persons are dead, one is dying and thirty are ill in one district in Englewood as the result of using milk infected with typhoid fever bacilli. This was disclosed today by the health department.

The prevalence of typhoid cases in the Englewood district attracted the attention of the health department two weeks ago. Investigation showed that most of the families affected received their milk from one dairy. Further investigation showed that Rose Boersma, an employee of this dairy, was what the medical profession term a "natural carrier."

Miss Boersma is apparently in good health, but there has been typhoid fever in the Boersma family since 1908, when the girl was taken ill.

ONCE ROYAL HOME IS NEARLY BURNED

"Muolaulani," the royal residence of Queen Liliuokalani on King street, at Palama, during the days of the Monarchy, narrowly escaped destruction by fire last night, when one of the Japanese tenants accidentally dropped a lighted lamp on a floor and started the flames. When the other Japanese saw the trouble they rushed to box 53, corner of King and Liliha streets, and turned in the alarm to the fire station. Fire Chief Thurston and his men got busy and were soon on the scene. But when they arrived there was nothing for them to do, the fire having been extinguished by Honda, a Japanese who lives there.

Muolaulani was once the gathering place of the royal family of Hawaii. Many official functions in which diplomats of foreign countries stationed here were guests, were given there. Queen Liliuokalani, who was then a Princess, entertaining her distinguished guests.

The place was recently leased by the Liliuokalani Trust to T. Uratake, a Japanese, who is making the grounds look presentable. While the structure itself is fast decaying, it is the intention of the present landlord to improve the place generally.

THE OUTLET PERPETRATED BY WALT McDUGALL

LOCAL NOTES: A Guy Yapp and family have returned from a two-months abroad with a lot of valuable antiques. Mrs. Yapp has secured a gargoyles from Hamlet's tomb. Sis Yapp copped off Oliver Cromwell's shaving-mug. Ira Yapp bought a glass eye once used by Goethe. Eli Yapp obtained a porous plaster belonging to the Duke of Alva and A. C. Yapp bought an alleged handpainted Rembrandt which looks pretty but which some of our best art experts and critics suspect to be really second-hand. All these treasures will be exhibited at the Annual Strawberry Festival at the Second Baptist on next Wednesday Evening, along with some stereoscopic pictures of the foreign lands visited by the Yapp family on their recent trip.
